

MARK A. GRIFFIN

President and Chief Consultant, In HIS Name HR LLC

Mark Griffin is founder and president of In HIS Name HR LLC, a human resources outsourcing and career coaching firm created to help companies pilot the complex issues of managing HR.

As a human resources professional with 20-plus years of experience in both public (Quaker Oats Company, Kodak Inc., Merck Inc.) and private companies (Woolrich, Conestoga Wood Specialties, Valco Companies Inc.), Mark is passionate about building high-performing workplaces utilizing best practices and helping companies with strong values lead successfully and responsibly.

Mark received his Bachelor of Science degree in Human Resources Administration from Saint Leo University while serving in the United States Air Force. He received his MBA from Bloomsburg University while interning for Congressman Kanjorski as a military liaison during the first Gulf War. Mark has completed several executive education programs at the University of Michigan, and is a certified practitioner of the Myers Briggs Type Instrument MBTI®.

Mark is also a published author. In his latest publication, How To Build “Kingdom Minded” Organizations, Mark provides the starting point for anyone wanting to create build, and develop their own values-led business, one that is both profitable and a stable positive environment in which employee wellbeing is enhanced, thus improving quality and increasing productivity.

Radical, inspirational, and affirmative - Mark A. Griffin's template for “kingdom minded” businesses is an idea whose time has come. How To Build “Kingdom-Minded” Organizations is now available at Amazon.com.

Mark and his wife, Gail, have two children, and recently celebrated their twenty-sixth wedding anniversary. Mark and his wife attend LCBC Church, where he is a career coach and volunteer leader for The Career Network, a ministry focused on assisting career explorers within the community.

